Floor cleaning made easy – just spray and mop

SprayPro Inox is the professional, ready-to-use floor cleaning system. Just fill the handle with solution, attach the mop of your choice and you are ready to clean. No buckets and presses are required as everything is contained within the handle, making it ideal for sites with limited storage.

It's professional

Don't be fooled by the attractive, stainless steel finish of SprayPro Inox! It's a highly professional tool designed for fast, effective daily cleaning of small areas, staircases and where lack of storage space are issues.

It's fast and easy

SprayPro Inox is always ready to use – simply fill the handle with solution, close the cap and you're ready to clean. To add water to the floor – just pull the trigger and continue mopping. No need for wringing of mops or filling/emptying heavy buckets.

It's flexible

Wet, damp or dry mopping? Washing facilities or not? No problem. SprayPro Inox is compatible with all leading single and multi-use floor-cleaning systems, allowing easy adaptation of your on-site conditions and needs.

It keeps costs down

SprayPro Inox is simple and easy to use. It requires no training, making it ideal for use by both professional and semi-professional cleaners. Also – as it is a self-contained system you don't have to invest in additional buckets and presses.
